

Individual Benefits

As an AFA member, you will have opportunities to develop leadership skills and confidence by serving in key positions and on committees within your chapter. You will help the Air Force by supporting adequate air power for national defense. You will become more knowledgeable on the issues affecting the Air Force, and your nation's security. If you desire, you will have opportunities to progress to increasing levels of responsibility in the Association.

Other Benefits

Group insurance programs, dental and other medical discount programs, banking center, platinum credit card, online brokerage, travel services, car rental discounts, employment assistance, education assistance, identity protection, electronics products discounts, access to members only online community and more.

www.afa.org

Visit our web site to learn about all the member benefits available to you

Air Force Association
The Force Behind the Force

Questions?

Visit our website at:

www.afa.org

OR...

Contact our Member Services Department: Toll-free
(800) 727-3337

E-mail service@afa.org

Air Force
Association

The Force Behind the Force

What's In It
For Me?

The Company Grade Officer

The Air Force Association is an independent, nonprofit organization that openly and strongly supports the United States Air Force and its components, and the need for air power as a strong factor in our nation's defense.

Company Grade Officer

The Air Force Association is a vigorous advocate of the dedicated, mission oriented, quality people who comprise the United States Air Force... Active Duty, Guard, Reserve, Civilians, Veterans, Retirees, and their families.

In short, AFA's basic mission is focused on national defense. With this as one of its main tasks, AFA strives to deal with matters regarding all Air Force personnel. Specifically, through its Government Relations department, AFA has proven to be a strong voice for Air Force personnel, heard by the Pentagon and Capitol Hill. Through its monthly publication AIR FORCE Magazine, and numerous symposia and seminars, AFA has brought the concerns of Air Force personnel into the public eye. Thus, AFA's role is that of "the professional society for all Air Force people."

Company Grade Officers help develop annual policy and guidance for our association by serving in key positions. They also provide input through the Air Force Company Grade Officer Advisory Council. As quoted by the Company Grade Officer Council,

"AFA has afforded us the opportunity to take an active role in shaping the Air Force's policies and culture, while interacting with active duty, guard, and reserve members; DOD civilians; and retirees. The combination of AFA's grass root inputs and unprecedented access to senior leaders presents a unique catalyst for improving the world's finest Air Force and ensuring its viability into the 21st Century;"

So..."What's in it for you?" A chance to roll-up your sleeves, join the AFA team, and work alongside other patriots in addressing challenging force capabilities and personnel issues. Your dedication and input will make a difference by improving the quality of life for those who have served, currently serve, and will serve in the future.

Prestige of Association... By participating as a member of the Air Force Association — the professional association for all Air Force personnel — you are helping to achieve the objectives of AFA in support of adequate air power and the people that make it happen.

Benefits of Joining the Air Force Association

The magazine has a long and colorful history, having been in existence since before there was either an Air Force or an Air Force Association. Over the decades, AIR FORCE has evolved into one of the world's foremost defense publications.

□ Award winning monthly journal unmatched in total force coverage with up to date editorial comments on issues of the day to include congressional issues and issues concerning space, technology, and military preparedness for our nation.

□ Annual issues of particular importance including an annual "Almanac of the US Air Force," a heavyweight compendium of facts and figures about Air Force people, background information on legislation of concern to Air Force personnel, equipment, budgets, bases organizations, leaders, heroes and a lot more. Each year, the Air Force orders hundreds of extra copies for its personnel to use as basic desk reference.

□ In 2005, AIR FORCE launched its innovative, ground breaking "Daily Report" news product on the AFA website, opening a highly promising venture in the defense information field. It provides a daily (Monday through Friday) roundup of news about the Air Force, airpower, and national defense.

□ Whether the subject is Air Force operations, programs, policies, history, or heroism, AIR FORCE Magazine is widely seen as the trusted authority by the defense community.

□ National symposia with key briefings by Air Force leaders.

□ Meetings at local and national levels where AFA speaks out on issues of importance to the Air Force.

□ Housed within AFA, the Baker Institute is the public policy and research arm of the organization. Activities of the Baker Institute include advocating for H.R. 758 to establish an interagency aerospace revitalization task force, a new study highlighting the Air Force and the Cold War and the publication of a series of Baker papers on important defense and aerospace issues.

□ So that we may recognize the best of the best, AFA honors the outstanding achievements of men and women throughout the United States Air Force, government, academia and the aerospace industry with awards, fellowships and scholarship programs. Nominations are solicited by the Air Force, members and leaders of AFA, and other organizations with a deep interest in aerospace activities. A complete list of the awards and recent recipients can be found at www.afa.org.