Subject: AFA Benefits

Brian

You have experienced a number of deployments. What benefits could AFA add to its benefits package that would especially help/assist those on deployment?

Thanks.

I have been thinking about this since walking into the Home Depot the other day and seeing a Community Partner sticker on the glass.

My wife and I have been blessed that during these deployments she has never needed anything. However if she did she knew that if she saw one of those Community Partner stickers she automatically felt at ease dealing with those businesses.

She took advantage of the free oil changes and help the community provided.

I don't think the AFA can do more but I will continue to give it some thought.
